

STUDYDADDY

Get Homework Help
From Expert Tutor

Get Help

Report title: (untitled)
Report ID: 13916d0b7f06b2c6495c
Date: 06/24/2018
Score: 2%

#1 63% similar

"However, he argued that the material cause can be divided into two sections: the prime matter and the proximate matter"

<https://simplyphilosophy.org/study/aristotles-four-causes/>

...en boxes burn because they are made out of wood. The human body needs oxygen because its cells need oxygen. Finally, the material cause can be divided into two: prime matter and proximate matter. Proximate matter is matter that has some properties, such as wood, cells and electronic components. Prime matter has...

Plagiarism detection provided by Quetext

STUDYDADDY

Get Homework Help
From Expert Tutor

Get Help