Immigration

The Irish Potato Famine cost over one million lives and as many left for North America. They served as cheap labor and - learn your history - were scapegoated by the politicians and were despised by the Nativists and many citizens of the USA. They were easy targets and depicted as sub humans.

This would be repeated with other immigrants over the decades to follow with new groups. Chinese must go! Forget give me your tired, you poor ... they are easy targets for politicians and the public is a willing participant. However, there is another reality. They do work that others will not do.

And it goes on today, despite what we have learned and failed to apply.
