

CLL Research Rubric and Template.

CLL 483: Actual Paper Framework

Directions: For the final project a research paper is required (15-pages excluding cover page and references). This paper is a continuation from CLL 383 (if I was your instructor). In this class, you will focus on the data collection for the Mock Interview and complete a full data analysis. The results section will include the findings from the data analysis. You will complete Yin's Thematic Analysis. You are required to discuss all the elements of the assignment during all classes. If you miss class, you will miss part of the assignment. You will be provided with examples to complete the paper. Please follow the outline provided below. You are to use Microsoft Word, double space, size 12 font, one-inch margins, appropriate APA standards. Yes, your research paper could be on your service-learning experience. As you are aware, and per the syllabus, you are required to present your research during the last two weeks of class.

Service Learning (choose one activity below)

175 Points

(12 pages)

- Link this assignment to the research topic for your paper. As part of the core class, service-learning is required. Each student must submit a PowerPoint presentation on service-learning. For this assignment, please share the importance of service based on your values or beliefs. What are the benefits to all for participating in service? How is the community improved because of the service experience? What are your future goals to begin or complete service? What is the meaning of social change to you? Please include images to support the type of service that is meaningful to you.
