Conference Requirements for WR 122

For this course, you are required to submit your first paper for a conference and one of the remaining two papers. In order to complete the conference, you will need to answer the questions below as part of your submission.

1) What did you do well with this draft?
2) What still needs improvement?
3) What areas of the paper assignment are still a little foggy?

I will return papers with comments and feedback. In order to complete the conference and earn points, you will the need to respond to those comments and discuss what your plans for the paper are before submitting the final assignment for grade.

This response might include:

1) Questions about the meaning of my comments
2) Questions about course concepts essential to successful completion of the paper (ethos, logos, rebuttal, etc)
3) Questions about general writing concepts essential to successful completion of the paper (citation, thesis statements, grammar)
4) A personal response to the comments
5) Anything else that would benefit from clarification.

Please be honest in those responses. That is the best way for me to know what you need to be successful. These comments should be sent using the interior D2L course email system.

Generally, your responses will engender some further response from me, which will arrive through the D2L course email system.

If you do not submit with questions or respond with comments, you will earn no points for the conference.
