Cut out, print, or copy the article and attach it with YOUR written thoughts.

This is not a critique of whether the article is good or bad. This assignment is a way for you to analyze the issue presented and to get you to explore your attitudes/thoughts/beliefs on various issues in the current world. Your opinions are not cast in stone, nor need they be, but you should be able to support your position with facts and evidence. You should be able to defend your commitment on the issue. Your opinion should be thought out using present information and not just personal views.

Be prepared to discuss your article and position during the next class period.

Principles of a Logical Argument

First you must make a claim. This can be anything based on the article which you have read.

Example: Texting and driving is dangerous

Reasons: This answers the question, 'why?' You will provide reasons to why you have made the claim.

Example: Texting and driving is dangerous because it impairs the drivers reaction time and increases the number of accidents.

Evidence: This provides the support. You have made claim and provided a reason for it.

now you must provide evidence to back up your claim.

Example: Driver reaction time with someone on a phone is decreased by X. ODOT claims that when you reaction time is decreased by X, you are Y% more likely to get into an accident.
