POLI A123 Reflection Paper Assignment 2

1. This is the second of two reflection papers assigned in this course, worth 5 points, to be completed by Friday, April 28, 1130pm
2. A reflection paper is a less-structured brief writing assignment that allows you to voice your thoughts on a subject in a relatively informal manner
3. It remains however in terms of presentation a formal piece of work, and proper citations and style should be observed
4. This should be a minimum of two pages, twelve point font double-spaced with one inch maximum margins
5. It must be submitted via the Assignments area of Blackboard by attaching and uploading an MS Word document
6. You might discuss, for example, in what ways the assignment impacted your ideas or make you think differently about politics in the country concerned? How did they further illustrate and contextualize the textbook and class discussions?
7. Assignment 2:

Purely from the perspective of the political system and the government's management of the economy that we have studied in this course so far (i.e. I am not interested in your cuisine, climate or landscape preferences), where would you prefer to live (countries mentioned in no preference other than the order in which we discussed them): Japan, India, Brazil, Mexico, Russia, China, Iran, South Africa or Nigeria? Why not the others?
